FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Jude 3 Project is helping equip Black Christians to engage culture with its new curriculum.

JACKSONVILLE, Florida, November 13, 2019 – The Jude 3 Project is pleased to announce their first published curriculum and e-learning course, Through Eyes of Color. Both are set to release to the general public on November 22, 2019.

Through Eyes of Color is a contextualized guide to help Black Christians know what they believe and why they believe it. It was curated from the Jude 3 Project podcast to give you a guide to answer the apologetic questions that are common in the black community. This six-week journey can be done with a group or alone. The Founder of Jude 3 Project, Lisa Fields, believes the curriculum and e-course will be a well-received resource for pastors and parishioners alike.

“We pray that your faith will be strengthened once you have completed this course and you will be better equipped to contend for the faith, not for argument sake but for the sake of transformation and courageous conversations.” - Lisa Fields

The curriculum and e-course component will be available for purchase on www.througheyesofcolor.com

The primary mission of the Jude 3 Project is to help the Christian community know what they believe and why they believe it. The organization is distinctive in its strong emphasis in equipping those of African descent in the United States and abroad.
